Queen Sabbath.

The world without Queen Sabbath
Isn't possible to conceive?
Yet it is this dire edict
That caused the first man to grieve!

That caused all crime to flourish,
That dyed the earth red with blood,
That developed Adam's sin
And caused it to richly bud.

For sin engendered a curse,
And the curse transformed to hate,
And the poison was instilled
In what Man did re-create.

And the closest ties of love,
No more power had to save,
And the brother killed the brother
For the father dug the grave.

O! Listen, Sons of Adam,
To the tale that's never old,
Of a world without a Sabbath
Of a faith that's sold for gold.

'Tis not an old tradition,
A legend, or fairy rhyme,
To amuse your weary hours;
To indulge your idle time.

'Tis a great, tragic lesson
That I'm seeking to impart,
And I pray to the Almighty
That these words may reach your heart.

And tell it to your neighbors,
Go tell it to all your friends,
With the fire that consumes me,
With the flame that never ends.

"In a world without Queen Sabbath
No repentance there can be;
No repentance—no atonement,
And the end of it you'll see."

Adam had not repented,
On his name was still the stain;
He did not learn the lesson
Till it was taught to him by Cain.
VIVIAN.

In the Jewish World

Rabbi Martin Meyer has been elected as Rabbi at Albany, N. Y.

Jacob A. Riis lectured at the Berith Kodesh Temple, Rochester, N. Y., last Saturday on "Tony's Hardships."

The Hebrew Ladies aid society of Minneapolis gave their annual ball at Mozart hall last week and realized a considerable sum.

At the laying of the corner-stone of the new Jewish synagogue, at the corner of Union Street and Woodruff Avenue, Toledo, Ohio, on the 19th inst., John W. Dowd and Rev. Freund were the principal speakers.

Owing to the unsafe condition of Hebrew School No. 1, at Girard and Germantown Avenues, Philadelphia, the Board of Officers of the Hebrew Education Society have decided that a building be purchased by the society as soon as possible, and the school transferred from the present quarters to the new structure.

The Congregation B'nai Israel of Columbus, Ohio, held its annual meeting and election of officers Monday evening at the First Universalist Church. The officers submitted their reports which showed the congregation to be in a prosperous condition.

Plans for the erection of a new temple were discussed and the matter was finally left to a committee to be appointed by the President in about a week. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, S. D. Burgundar; Vice-President, N. Henline; Treasurer, E. J. Goodman; Secretary, S. Levy; Trustees, L. Meyer, S. M. Levy and J. H. Shenthal.

W. B. Washburn, of Minnesota University, has been appointed instructor of physics at the Baron de Hirsch Agricultural College at Woodbine.

The Hebrew Educational Society of Trenton, N. J., at their last meeting engaged for the opening of night schools for the instruction of the Hebrew children in the English language. Moise Miller and Alfred H. Miller are the instructors. The schools will open next Sunday and continue until spring.

The following officers were elected by the Congregation B'nai Israel of Paterson, N. J., last Sunday night: President, Israel Aronson; vice president, Barne Maxkofsky; treasurer, Israel Cohn; financial secretary, Martin Elkind; trustees, Abraham Cohen, Jacob Rodesky, Michael Levenstein.

The Kenezeth Israel Congregation of Pottsville, Pa., held an election last Sunday with the following result: President, I. Gilbert; Vice-President, T. Wiener; Treasurer, H. L. Eber; Trustees, I. Lieberman, H. Rubinsky and Abraham Holstein. Rabbi Folkowitz leaves in about two months and his successor has not yet been appointed.

Ex-Police Commissioner Isaac Rosenbloom of Syracuse, N. Y., at a recent fire rescued a child from a perilous position and brought her in safety to the ground. He was obliged to climb a tree which grew in close proximity to the house and swing across to the roof of a piazza adjacent to the balcony on which the little one was standing. Returning by the same way, he carried her out of harms way.

At the annual meeting of the Hartford Hebrew Institute, the following officers for the coming six months were elected: President, S. Silver; Vice President, I. Richman; Treasurer, A. Goldberg; Finance Secretary, Rev. L. Hurowitz; Recording Secretary, Julius H. Geniowsky; Trustees, A. Schaunker, B. Nevid; Collector, Julius H. Geniowsky.

The Congregation Beth El of Fort Worth, Texas, has been incorporated with the following officers: Sam Levy, President; H. Gernsbacher, Treasurer; I. Carb, Secretary; Jos. Pommer, D. Brown and Jac Mayer, trustees. Rabbi Philo, who has been conducting services at the Temple on Tailor Street, where the congregation has been meeting, has been engaged and steps toward a permanent temple and more systematic organization are being considered.

The Jewish residents of Marion, O., have leased quarters in the Masonic Temple in which to hold services and society meetings. It was intended to establish a regular circuit over which a rabbi might preach at stated intervals with Marion as an important point, but this plan has been abandoned owing to the lack of Jewish people in the surrounding towns and their inability to sustain such a circuit.

The two Jewish congregations of the East End, Richmond, Va.—Sir Moses Montefiore and Keneseth Israel—will, in all probability, unite, sell the two houses of worship they at present occupy, and erect a new and finer synagogue in the central portion of the city.

At a meeting of the members of the Congregation Beth Haknesses Hakdosh of Rochester, N. Y., on Sunday evening four trustees and the officers whose names follow were elected: President, Aaron Nusbaum; vice president, Morris Fonnig; secretary, L. Hurvitz; treasurer, J. Horiwitz.

Last week the thirty-fifth annual Succoth Festival was celebrated at the Hebrew Hospital and Asylum of Baltimore. The attendance was the largest that has participated since the institution was founded. The exercises were closed with a banquet, covers were laid for 500 guests. Donations amounting to over $2,500 were received.

Rabbi Garfunkel of the Anshe Russia Synagogue, Newark, N. J., died at his home, 135 Baldwin Street, last Wednesday night after an illness of six weeks. He was 46 years old and immigrated to this country 16 years ago, locating in Newark and had been Rabbi of the congregation for 9 years.

At the annual meeting of the United Hebrew Congregation of St. Louis, Mo., last Sunday afternoon, Rev. Dr. H. J. Messing was re-elected Rabbi for five years. Samuel Marx was elected president. Other officers elected were: M. Blumenfeld, vice president; S. Gelbert, secretary; M. Lipschitz, treasurer; Samuel J. Russak, Joseph Landau, A. Daust, J. B. Goldsmith and Dr. G. Moritz, directors. The congregation is in excellent shape financially.

At the first fall meeting of the United Jewish Charities Club of Detroit, Mich., on the 19th inst., Fred M. Butzel gave a lecture on the Wagner opera, illustrated with the piano. Mrs. Leo M. Franklin, President, occupied the chair. A series of classes in physical culture, literature and cooking have been arranged for the coming winter. Fourteen new members were admitted, making a total of 266.

At the annual meeting of the Congregation of B'nai Israel of Elizabeth, N. J., held last Sunday, the following officers were chosen: President, David Kaufman; vice-president, E. J. Cohen; treasurer, Charles Callman; secretary, Morris Koestler; trustees, Hyman Isaacs, Bernhard Cohen and Herman Kaufman; finance committee, William Miller, I. N. Heller, Louis Green; school committee, Sigismund Patek, Edward S. Hirsch and M. Leichman. The finances of the synagogue are in a very satisfactory condition.

A building committee of the Scovill Avenue Temple congregation, Cleveland, O., will meet soon to consider plans for the erection of a new synagogue. It is the intention to build east of the present location. At a meeting last Sunday Dr. S. Kohn was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the death of H. Blahd. Other officers were re-elected for the coming year and plans were discussed looking to the enlargement of the Sabbath School.

At the last meeting of the executive board of the Jewish Women's Hospital of Cleveland, O., all of the chairmen of the committee of forty to raise funds for the new hospital building were present and discussed plans. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Gleichman, Mrs. M. H. Cohen, Mrs. E. Mandelbaum, Max I. Goodman, Judge Bloch, Michael Moses, J. I. Deutsch and I. Adelstein. It is the intention now to have the hospital in shape for occupancy by January 1st.

With simple exercises the new greenhouse erected as a memorial to August and Fredericke Sondheim by their son Julius Sondheim, on the grounds of the Jewish Foster Home and Orphan Asylum, Church lane near Chew street, Germantown, Pa., was dedicated on the 19th inst. The greenhouse, which is 50x21 feet in size, is situate in the centre of the beautiful gardens of the home. A fine collection of flowers and tropical plants has been placed in it, including seventy-five different varieties of palms and many rare plants. These are intended to illustrate the botany lessons of the children of the home. In front of the greenhouse, on either side of a beautiful avenue of cosmos flowers, are two immense memorial beds, the names of August and Fredericke Sondheim being prettily traced with letters formed with various flowers and plants.

The Hebrews of West Hudson met last week and organized a congregation to be known as B'nai Jeshurun. The following officers were elected: President, Henry L. Jacobs; vice-president, Louis Finklestein; treasurer, Frank Pulaski; financial secretary, Solomon Friedman.

Fully 5,000 people attempted to take part in the services, last Sunday afternoon, dedicating the Orthodox Jewish Home for the Aged, at Albany and Ogden avenues, Chicago, Ill. Less than one-half of the number were able to get within the large tent which had been erected, and a squad of policemen had all it could do to prevent women and children from being injured in the crush. The donations amounting to $5,000, were realized from the sale of various "Mitzvahs."

Mayor Harrison made a short address congratulating the Jewish people, and declared that the Home of the Aged was a grand monument of their efforts. Other addresses were made by the Rev. A. S. Baude, A. Turner, and A. I. Frank. Martin Emerich was master of ceremonies, the building is fireproof, and cost $75,000, and has accommodations for 100 persons. A charity ball is to be given for the benefit of the new home at the Auditorium Dec. 10.

By the will of Siegfried H. Kirchner, admitted to probate in Chicago, last week, the following ten charitable institutions were given $1,000 each:

- United Hebrew Charities of Chicago,
- Alexian Brothers' Hospital, Home for Aged Jews, German Old People's Home, National Jewish Hospital for Consumptives at Denver, Colo., Chicago Home for Jewish Orphans, Chicago Lying-in Hospital, Home for Destitute Crippled Children, Jewish Training School, Visiting Nurses' Association.

For a memorial room in the Michael Reese Hospital, to be conducted by the United Hebrew Charities, the room to be known as the S. H. Kirchner room, the sum of $3,000 was provided.

About $100,000 is distributed to Philadelphia Jewish charities under the adjudication made in the Orphans' Court by Judge Ferguson, disposing of a balance of $116,559.96 of the estate of Emily Phillips, who died July 6, 1901.

Among the awards are:

- Jefferson Medical College, for two Henry M. Phillips prizes, $5,000
- Jefferson Medical College Hospital, for a free bed in memory of Henry M. Phillips, 10,000
- United Hebrew Charities, 10,000
- Jewish Foster Home, 5,000
- Jewish Hospital, for a ward to be called "Henry M. Phillips' Ward," 40,000
- Hebrew Educational Society, 2,000
- Societe Alliance Universelle Israelite, 2,000
- Richmond Industrial School, 2650 and 2652 Lark street, 2,000
- Hebrew Female Benevolent Society, 1,000
- Hebrew Sunday School Society, 1,000
- Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane, 2,000
- Trustees of the Charity Fund of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Pennsylvania, 24,000
- Philadelphia Hospital for Incurables, 5,000

- Hebrew (or Jewish) Emigrant Aid Society, 4,000
- Hebrew Industrial School (additional), 21,000
- Society of Esroth Nashim, 1,000

Some of the bequests are subject to conditions named in frequent codicils, that of $5,000 to the Jefferson Hospital being announced in a codicil as having been paid during the lifetime of the testator and subsequent to the framing of the will.

The Finger of God.

Dr. Hammond, in his forementioned treatise, mentioned an ancient story, out of Cedrenus, of a Jew, who, upon reading the words of Solomon: "He that hath pity on the poor lendeth to the Lord, and that which he hath given will He pay him again," resolved to try whether God would be as good as His word, thereupon gave all he had but two pieces of silver to the poor, and then waited, and expected to see it come again. But being not presently answered in that expectation, grew angry, and went up to Jerusalem to expostulate with God for not performing His promise. And going on his way, found two men striving, engaged in an unreconcilable quarrel about a stone, that both, walking together, had found in the way, and so had both equal right in it; but being but one, and not capable of being divided, they could not both enjoy; and therefore, to make them friends, he having two pieces of silver, doth upon contract divide them betwixt the contenders, and hath the stone in exchange for them. Having it he goes on his journey, and coming to Jerusalem, shows it to the goldsmith, who tells him it was a jewel of great value, being a stone fallen and lost out of the High Priest's ephod, to whom if he carried it, he would certainly receive a great reward. He did so, and accordingly it proved. The High Priest took it of him, gave him a great reward, and withal sharply reproved him for questioning the truth of God's promise, bidding him trust God the next time.—Turner's Remarkable Providences, 1697.

Edward B. Amend,

Candidate for Justice Supreme Court.

Edward B. Amend resides at No. 324 East Eighty-seventh street, in the Borough of Manhattan, and has an office at No. 119 Nassau street. He is President of the German-American Reform Union, which has a membership of upwards of 27,000 and is organized in each of the thirty-five Assembly districts of this county. He is head of the law firm of E. B. & W. J. Amend, was born June 2, 1858, in this city, where he has always resided and where he has been in active practice as a lawyer for the past twenty-three years. He is a member of the Bar Association and one of the counsel of the German Savings Bank (the largest German Savings Bank in this country), also of the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank as well as of the New Yorker Staats-Zeitung. He is a graduate of the College of St. Francis Xavier as well as of Columbia College. He is a trustee of the College of the City of New York, a director of the Yorkville Bank and one of the Board of Managers of the New York Catholic Protectorate. He is a member of the Catholic Club, the Arion Society, the German Society, the German Hospital, the German Press Club, the Isabella Helmath, the Beethoven Maennerchor and Democratic Club.

He is frequently seen at the meetings of the Brooklyn and Coney Island Jockey Clubs, and he has been the owner of some noted race horses in his time.

Colonel Ruppert is a member of the Manhattan, New York Athletic and other clubs.

Edward E. McCall.

We present above a fine portrait of Mr. Edward E. McCall, the candidate for Supreme Court Justice. Mr. McCall was born in Albany, but came to New York at an early age. He is a graduate of Albany High School, where he graduated with high honors. He studied law shortly after leaving school and has been actively engaged in practice for over twenty years. He has an extensive legal business at 346 Broadway, and there is no doubt that his legal ability and experience will stand him in good stead in a judicial position. Mr. McCall is a thorough gentleman, and his manner is courteous to a degree. There is no doubt that the election of Mr. McCall to the Supreme Court bench will prove a valuable addition to that body and that he will show himself in every way an honor to his party and himself. That Mr. McCall has a keen sense of the responsibilities of his position is shown by the following extract from his speech accepting the nomination.

"An observance of the proprieties prevents my indulgence in political discussion, but at the same time rather urges a declaration and that is that if elected I shall try to but one influence and recognize but one master—that invisible but ever present monitor, placed by the Almighty within the breasts of all human kind—conscience—and in the performance of my official duties keep ever present before me the certain fact that there is a Judgment Seat before which I must one day appear, there to make answer for the stewardship which to-night you give to my temporary keeping, and which I now accept."

The Maimonides Free Library has received from the city 117 volumes of the City Record giving a record of transactions of the city for thirty years past.

(Chicago Israelite.)

Judge Adolph Moses of this city has filed a writ of mandamus in the Supreme Court, asking that Secretary of State Rose be compelled to restore the charter of Hillel Lodge, No. 72, I. O. B. B., which the secretary annulled for failing to comply with a law providing for an annual report. It seems the real cause for the withdrawal of the charter was not so much for a failure to report as for a failure to pay the dollar that must accompany the report.

"The Secretary of State is wise in his generation, and a dollar is a dollar from whichever side you look at it. One would naturally suppose that five cents on the dollar would not be too great an inducement to the gentlemen manipulating the Springfield gun of our State. Nor is it. Any of these gentlemen can afford to smile at a nickel and throw it to a hungry voter. I am equally persuaded that the Secretary of State has no particular grudge against Hillel Lodge. But there are some 35,000 corporations that have slighted the Secretary of State and failed to 'come up.' Five cents in those dollars mean something. It is to be hoped that Judge Moses will win his case. I am almost sure he will. No man can—when doing politics—withstand the gentle suasion of a shotgun. And the Judge's shotgun is loaded for bear. Behind him stands the Order of B. B., a mighty organization, doing business at the old stand. The Supreme Court is human; the Secretary of State is human; the Attorney General is human; and Judge Moses is a man after the heart of God."

Jacob Ruppert, Jr.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert, Jr., who has been renominated for Representative in Congress from the Sixteenth New York District, is one of the best known Democrats in this his native city, and his reputation is by no means confined to the city alone. As a member of the National Guard, a patron of legitimate sports and a believer in the commercial prestige of the metropolis his record is an open book.

For seventeen years he has been associated with his father as general manager of the Jacob Ruppert Brewing Company. He is a graduate of Columbia Grammar School. Mr. Ruppert has devoted considerable time to social and club life, and has a wide circle of acquaintances both in and out of politics.

He served for three years as a private in Company B of the Seventh Regiment, until, in 1889, he was appointed a member of Governor Hill's staff with the rank of Colonel and A. D. C.

Colonel Ruppert was advanced to the rank of senior aid in the administration of Governor Flower. He delivered the address for the State of New York in acceptance of the Columbus monument and took part in the inauguration ceremonies of President Cleveland in 1892.

Colonel Ruppert was elected to the Fifty-sixth Congress, receiving 31,292 votes to 20,818 for Philip B. Low, republican; 1,922 for William F. Ehret, socialist labor, and 83 for J. T. Brooks, prohibitionist. He attracted considerable attention

The endowment committee had its regular monthly meeting on Sunday last.

Jewish Endeavor Society.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors was held at 736 Lexington avenue Saturday night, the 18th inst., Vice-President Gabriel Davidson presiding. Reports of the various committees were rendered. The Synagogue Committee reported that plans were now in progress to reopen the Sabbath afternoon services, and that this would be done shortly. Mr. Elias L. Solomon was appointed chairman of the committee.

The Bible Class Committee announced that the class in the Educational Alliance would resume sessions on October 27, and a second class on October 29. The former will be led by Mr. A. Abelson, of the Jewish Theological Seminary.

The Committee on Lectures stated that it was progressing rapidly with the course and that the lectures will be commenced in the very near future.

The Committee on Religious Schools reported that School No. 1, at 186 Chrystie street, had been opened last month, under the superintendence of Miss Ida C. Mearson, and that School No. 2, in Rivington street, would open after the holidays, in charge of Mr. Gabriel Davidson. Negotiations are now also under way for a third school, of which Mr. Henry P. Goldstein will be principal.

The Finance Committee reported that a contribution had been received from Mr. Felix Warburg, which is gratefully acknowledged.

The Publication Committee stated that it had decided to send weekly detailed reports of the activities and plans of the society to the Jewish press, for the information of the Jewish public.

The Entertainment Committee reported that it had several propositions under advisement, which would be submitted at the next meeting.

The Propaganda Committee reported that it had been decided to issue pamphlets outlining the doing of the society, to be distributed among the Jewish public.

Mr. J. Diamondstein rendered the report of the Harlem branch. He informed the board that the Bible class would resume sessions at 25 West 118th street, on Monday, November 3, and would meet the first and third Mondays of every month. Mr. Henry P. Goldstein will be its leader. A lecture course, has also been drawn up for the season, beginning October, 1902, and ending May, 1903. The lectures, which are by prominent Jewish speakers, will be delivered at the same place on the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

The first lecture of the Harlem branch was delivered last Monday night by Mr. Isidore Herschfeld, on "Sabbatni G'Ve a False Prophet." The attendance was the largest ever had by the branch. The lecture, which was of great interest, was much appreciated by the audience. It was to have been delivered last week, but a postponement was found necessary.

Kolbusower Young Men's Benevolent Society.

In May, 1899, ten young men from the town of Kolbusow, Galicia, met in New York, and organized a club under the name of "The Kolbusower Young Men's Benevolent Society." Its aim, at the beginning, was to stand united for purposes of mutual benevolence, and a sick benefit fund was established.

The members soon grew weary of having only one single object in view, and became desirous of striking out for broader and more beautiful fields of endeavor. They gradually became aware of their mental deficiencies and felt a burning thirst for that knowledge which had been denied them in their early youth.

Under the leadership of Dr. Henry Goldberg, the services of such gentlemen as, Mr. Edward Mandel, principal of public school 34 and evening school 7, and Edgar D. Shimer, Ph. D., district superintendent of the public schools of that neighborhood, were enlisted and a library, reading-room and evening school are about to be opened at 14 Attorney street as a result of their efforts.

The evening school will be attended by eighty members. Class I, composed of the more advanced students, will have its sessions twice a week, while Class II, containing the lesser informed pupils, will meet three evenings during the week. The school benches and writing materials will be furnished by the Board of Education, through the kind influence of Messrs. Mandel and Shimer. An efficient teacher has already been appointed to conduct the classes. Prominent speakers will be invited to lecture once a month to the members, at their open literary meetings.

On October 3 the first open literary meeting was held at Odd Fellows' Hall, in St. Mark's place. Dr. Henry Goldberg presided. Edward Mandel delivered a address on "Education." The exercises were very interesting, and included declamations and musical numbers also. Among those who participated were Misses Brayer, Epstein and Hoffman and Messrs. Gastwirth, Filfuss, Kurtz, Mittelman, Hartman, Goldberg, and Fried.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

Health and happiness always furnish food for thought. Without one we cannot enjoy the other, yet a great many people do not give even a passing thought, when eating, as to whether or not their food will give the most nutrition with least amount of labor by the stomach.

Naturally, humanity is very apt to disregard the laws of nature, not from desire, but more especially want of thought; until a sense of realization is evidenced through disease. The stomach refuses to longer submit to abuse and indigestion, dyspepsia, diabetes and complete physical derangement results. To conditions of this nature the value of cereal foods is inestimable; though, like all other things, there is both good and bad—some with food value, some without.

"Gluten Grits" and "Barley Crystals," manufactured by Farwell & Rhines, Watertown, N. Y., are acknowledged to be the most healthful and nutritive cereal foods made. These and their "Gluten Flour" for dyspepsia and mild cases of diabetes, and their "Special Diabetic Flour," contain all the strength-giving elements of the grain without any deleterious features. So prepared that the weakest stomach of invalid or infant will assimilate and reap their beneficial influence, they nourish the system and furnish the proper elements in the easiest digestible form. Good for strong stomachs—better for weak. For breakfast food, griddle cakes, porridge, wafers or gems, biscuits or puddings, their goodness is practically unlimited.

Write for pamphlet telling of their uses and how the health may be preserved, which, together with samples, will be sent on request. "Gluten Grits" and "Barley Crystals" are sold everywhere.

Vernon M. Davis.

Vernon M. Davis, Democratic Candidate for the office of Justice of the Supreme Court, was born in this city in 1855. He was educated in the public schools and the College of the City of New York, graduating from the latter institution in 1876. In 1875 he was appointed Deputy Assistant District Attorney by Randolph B. Martine, and later he was promoted to the office of Assistant District Attorney, serving as such until April 20, 1897. During the terms of District Attorneys Nicoll and Fellows, Mr. Davis was acting District Attorney, and upon the death of Col. Fellows he became District Attorney by the unanimous appointment of the Judges of the Court of General Sessions, on December 7, 1896, holding the office until the appointment of Mr. Olcott by Governor Black. In 1901 Mr. Davis was a member of the School Board of the Borough of the Bronx, a member of the Board of Education of the City of New York, and Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the College of the City of New York, and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Normal College.

Mr. Davis is a graduate of the Columbia College Law School. He was admitted to the Bar in 1879, and since that time he has been actively engaged in practice both in civil and criminal cases. Mr. Davis was for a long time, and until he entered the District Attorney's Office, a member of the law firm of Davis, Cohen & McWilliam, a partnership which he founded.

Mr. Davis is well known as a man of liberal views and of keen sense of justice. When asked to defend the employees of R. Hoe & Company last August, he refused the retainer.

Mr. Vernon M. Davis is well known as a friend and advocate of labor. In 1900 he was attorney for the Cigar Makers' International Union in the great Cigar Maker's strike, and his great fight in their behalf in the Supreme Court in which he fought the two injunctions which prevented the striking Cigar Makers from picketing and paying the strike benefits, finally resulted in having these injunctions set aside, and in upholding the right of the striking Cigar Makers to engage in lawful picketing and in paying strike benefits. The injunctions which were set aside through Mr. Davis' efforts were issued in the two cases of Kerbs vs. Rosenstein and Levy vs. Rosenstein, in April, 1900, in both of which cases Mr. Davis was the attorney for Rosenstein.

Ripley and Tapper's Rote Song Book.
By Frederick H. Ripley and Thomas Tapper. American Book Company, New York, Cincinnati and Chicago.

Prepared by the authors of the well-known and widely used "Natural Course in Music," this Rote Song Book is well adapted both to cultivate a perception of tone relation, and to develop the artistic sense of the child. Divided into ten parts for the ten school months, the songs are arranged to follow and illustrate the year's seasons. The poems represent the latest thoughts of the best authors of child literature, and their musical setting is, by its simple character, well suited to the beginner. The vocal exercises for phrasing and control of the breath extend through the entire book. Full directions for the work are given for the benefit of the teacher. Every part of the book has been thoroughly tested in actual class-room work, and it is admirably suited to teach the first steps in music.

Temple Ahavath Chesed Young People's League.

The first lecture of the series on the "Origin and Development of Judaism," the rebirth of a nation, will be delivered by Dr. I. S. Moses, in the vestry room of the temple this evening, at 8.30 p. m.

Congregation Agudath Jeshorim.

The subject of Dr. D. Davidson's sermon this Sabbath will be "The New Deluge."

Seventy-second Street Synagogue.

Rev. Dr. Falk Vidaver will preach Sabbath morning on the subject, "What Do We Learn from the Flood Story?"

Temple Israel of Harlem.

This Friday evening the subject of lecture by Dr. M. H. Harris will be "Story of the Jew in America." Saturday morning, subject of sermon, "Beginnings of the Human Race."

Congregation Talmud Thora of West Harlem.

Rev. Dr. Louis A. Alexander, who officiated in our congregation on the holidays, presided at the annual meeting of the Congregation, held at their place of worship Sunday, October 26, at 5 p. m.

It was decided to make every possible effort of having a Hebrew free school established, for which purpose a resolution was unanimously passed to have a mass meeting called for Sunday, November 2, 7 p. m., at Horatio Seymour Hall, 2311-2313 Eighth avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street.

Dr. Louis A. Alexander will address the meeting and speak on the subject: "The Influence of Instruction in Religion in Judaism." All are invited.

Mt. Zion Congregation.

113th St., between Park and Madison Avenues. Master Weinberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Weinberg, of One Hundred and Sixth street, was Bar Mitzvah at the synagogue last Saturday.

The Mt. Zion Literary and Social League met last Tuesday evening at the Hermoine. The next meeting will take place at the synagogue vestry Tuesday, Nov. 11. Important business looking to the future of the organization as an active auxiliary to the congregation was transacted.

Wednesday night, October 29, the sisterhood of the congregation met. Members and their friends had been invited, as it was to be an open meeting. The largest meeting held in many years was this gathering. A fuller account may be given in the next issue. Rabbi Samuel Greenfield delivered an address in which he exhorted the organization to carry out its objects in a thorough manner.

Next Sunday, Nov. 2, the enrollment of children for next season's congregation school will take place.

Temple Adath Israel of the Bronx.

Last Saturday night the Temple was filled by those who came to help dedicate the new Sepher Torah presented by the Bronx Sisterhood. President Joseph L. Schider presided. Addresses were made by Rev. Adolph M. Radin, Rev. G. Taubenhaus and Rev. Rudolph Grossman. The opening prayer was recited feelingly by Rabbi Emanuel Rosenzweig, who also officiated in placing the new Sepher Torah in the ark. Rev. S. Jonas read a short portion from Beresheth, etc. Amid great rejoicing and loud "Hazzak! Hazzaks!" the ceremony was closed. The Harmonic Club Orchestra, under direction of Misses Frieda and Hattie Freund, played several numbers. Miss Cella Glueck sang "Hear, O Israel!" and Messrs Forman and Berg of the Temple choir also sang. Mrs. J. L. Furst spoke for the Sisterhood and President J. L. Schider officiated throughout the completing of the Torah. The Sisterhood bid $25 for the first letter of Beresheth (B), other letters sold for $10 and $5. No letter brought less than $1 and in all a substantial sum was added to the funds of the Temple. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the Sisterhood.

A memorial window in honor of their mother, was presented by Trustee Isaac L. Davis and his brothers and sisters. Mrs. J. L. Furst, Mrs. H. J. Radin and Mrs. Geo. E. Simmons decorated the Temple. Mr. H. J. Radin acted as recorder of the offerings. Messrs L. Neudorfer, B. Hochbaum, J. L. Davis, Freund, Counselor Charles Stein and others acted as ushers. The affair was very successful and lasted from 8 P. M. till after midnight. The Torah came from Vilna, Russia, through Mr. K. Pasten. He was represented by Scribe Baruch Hurwitz, who did the actual writing in the completing of the Torah. Each one who paid for the Mitzvah held the quill during the recital of the Beresheth by Mr. Hurwitz, and then he (Hurwitz) filled in the letter. Men, women and children participated in the picturesque and interesting ceremonies. The Temple officers and their Rabbi deserve credit for giving to Israelites an opportunity to witness and take part in work of this nature. We wish them all "Jeshet Koach."

For B'nai Jeshurun's Sisterhood.

Tickets have been recently issued for an amateur theatrical performance, to be given by members of the Madison Avenue Synagogue. The affair will take place at Sherry's, on the night of December 4. The performance is given in aid of the Temple's Sisterhood, an organization which is doing much good among the city's poor.

As their play, Messrs. Lehmann and Holzman, who are in charge of all the arrangements, have chosen a musical comedy, entitled "At the Sign of the Clock; or, A Near Comic Opera." The production is in one act, with the scene at Herald Square. It is very much up-to-date—the words being very clever and the music unusually good. However, the feature of the performance is the work of the chorus, which is surprisingly good. For some time weekly rehearsals have been held, and these have given the to-be performers such confidence that these are no longer necessary.

Many tickets have already been sold, and everything seems to indicate a successful issue.

Alliance Israélite Universelle.

The American representatives of the Alliance have done considerable propaganda work in Boston during the past few weeks, and have succeeded in stirring up a good number of Boston's prominent Jews, who are now taking a lively interest in the puzzling question, how to better the condition of our persecuted brethren to the best advantage.

To consider the serious problem a committee has been formed, a public meeting called for next Sunday under the auspices of the Alliance Israélite Universelle in the Ohabel Shalom Temple of Boston, Mass.

The meeting will be presided over by Mr. Godfrey Morse. Speakers secured to address the meeting are the following: Dr. Chas. E. Elliot, President of Harvard University; Edwin D. Mead, editor New England Magazine; Rev. Drs. Simon Hirschberg and Charles Fleischer. Another meeting with prominent speakers is being arranged for to take place on November 9 in the Baldwin Street Synagogue of Boston.

Lebanon Hospital League.

The Lebanon Hospital League again scored a point of success at the Japanese dance given at the Tuxedo on Saturday evening, October 25, 1902.

The hall was most beautifully decorated with Japanese flags, lanterns, panels, bunting and festooning, the work of Messrs. Kosch, Brand and D. S. Loeb.

Messrs. L. Straus & Sons donated a number of Japanese cups and saucers, which were sold to all those desiring souvenirs of the affair. The Lipton Tea Company donated all the tea necessary. In addition to teas there was also lemonade and cake, all of which was under the entire charge of Miss Marion E. Levy. Other members, who were directly responsible for the success of the affair were Messrs. Harry Bechhoc, Alf. Olenick, L. Victor Weil and Maximilian Zipkes.

The grand annual ball of the league will be held Saturday evening, December 13, 1902, at Lexington Assembly Rooms, Fifty-eighth street, near Third avenue. A first-class professional entertainment will be given.

Monuments Dedicated.

At Mt. Hope Cemetery last Sunday, October 26, there was dedicated a monument in memory of Mrs. Caroline Geier. A large number of relatives and friends were present. Rev. F. Light officiated.

On Sunday last, October 26, 1902, a monument was unveiled in memory of Miss Bella Nussbaum at Cypress Hills Cemetery. Rev. F. Light officiated.

On Sunday last, October 26, 1902, a monument was unveiled to the memory of Mr. Ernest Cohn at Salem Field Cemetery. Rev. F. Light officiated.

proved conclusively that the children's lungs are in as good working order as are their teeth.

The Grand Conservatory of Music, which was for over twenty-three years on Twenty-third street, is now located at No. 356 West Fifty-seventh street. This institution is the only one of its kind empowered by the Legislature of the State of New York, to confer the regular University degrees, which should be sufficient attestation as to the standing of this school. The instruction is given by tutors eminently fitted for their various branches, all under the able direction and personal supervision of Dr. E. Eberhard, the president of the faculty.

Instruction is given in piano, voice, violin, cello, flute, cornet and all musical instruments, harmony, counterpoint, fugue, and instrumentation, and all musical sciences, besides lectures on the history and aesthetic of music. Special courses are provided for beginner, for advanced and finishing students and for artists and professionals. The terms of this institute are moderate.

Rodeph Sholom Sisterhood.

With the approach of Winter, comes the season of activity for those societies who are found by the hope of alleviating the sufferings of those of our co-religionists whose lives are one bitter struggle with poverty.

Among the most earnest of these workers in the field of Charity is the "Rodeph Sholom Sisterhood." With its over 350 members and patrons all striving to further the common cause, surely must mankind be benefited by their persevering efforts.

Besides caring for the poor in the district lying between Houston, Canpon and Grand streets and the East River, the organization maintains the "Aaro Wise Industrial School" at 311 East 3rd street, with its allied classes for religious and sewing instruction, gives monthly entertainments known as "Mothers' Meetings" for the women in relief-district, and is otherwise untiring in its labor of love.

Sewing for the poor is done by the ladies of the Society on Thursday afternoons during the winter months, in the vestry rooms of the Temple Rodeph Sholom, Sixty-third street and Lexington ave.

Work for the season 1902-03 will be resumed on Thursday, November 6th, 1902.

Testimonial to Dr. H. P. Mendes.

At a meeting of a Committee of the Congregation Shearith Israel called for the purpose of considering the commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Dr. H. Pereira Mendes as Hazan, it was resolved that a fitting token of the esteem in which Dr. Mendes is held should on this occasion be presented to him; and it is the intention of the Congregation to arrange a reception at which this token shall be offered.

A committee, consisting of Francis H. Tobias, Chairman; L. Napoleon Levy, Henry H. Hendricks, William Salomon, Frederic A. Kursheedt, Frederic Nathan, Mrs. Edgar Hendricks, Miss Harry Lyon, was appointed to invite all members of the congregation to join, as they feel disposed, in the observance of this event. The date of the reception will be made on or about November 30.

Among the subscribers are L. Napoleon Levy, $250.00; William Salomon $250.00; N. Taylor Phillips, $250.00; Aaron Wolff, Jr., $250.00; Frederic A. Kursheedt, $150.00; Mrs. Elizabeth Lyon, $100.00; Henry H. Hendricks, $100.00; Frederic Nathan, $100.00; Albert J. Elias, $100.00; Mitchell A. C. Levy, $100.00; Edgar J. Nathan, $100.00; Isaac Brandon, $50.00; Samuel L. Hyman, $50.00; Dr. Mark Blumenthal, $50.00; Mrs. Edgar Hendricks, $25.00; David C. Andrews, $20.00; Francis H. Tobias, $10.00; Miss Gertrud Dreyfous, $10.00; David J. Benoliel, $10.00; Mrs. M. M. Menken, $10.00.

Ernest Hall.

Justice Ernest Hall, who sits in Part I, Special Term of the Supreme Court, to which seat he was appointed by Gov. Odell upon the demise of Justice Miles Beach and who is the first Justice to represent the Borough of the Bronx, will poll a big vote in the fire and police departments and an especially big vote among the legal fraternity, than whom no member of the bench stands higher. Justice Hall has lived in Morrisania, The Bronx, for fifty years. He was graduated there in the public schools and was there "bred to the law." In 1863, while a law student, he enlisted in the 71st Regiment and fought with conspicuous bravery at Gettysburg. Later he served in the United States Navy under Admiral Ammon on the "Mohican." He was instrumental in organizing Lafayette Post and was its first senior vice-commander and his popularity in the G. A. R. is undiminished. Judge Hall is a member of the Bar Association, Lawyers' Club, N. Y. Athletic Club, St. John's Guild, Charities Organization Society, Lebanon Hospital Association, Republican Club, Fordham Club, Bedford Park Club, Morris Club and a score of other social and political organizations where his unobtrusiveness and modesty have added to his popularity. Judge Hall, in 1898, was appointed Referee in Bankruptcy and between that time and his appointment to the Supreme Court Bench, decided some difficult and novel cases which earned for him his enviable reputation for judicial perspicacity and probity.

Sabbath Portion of the Law:

ל

Slight circumstances are the stumbling blocks of families.

When we destroy an old prejudice
we have need of a new virtue.

Religion is a chain of gold which attaches humanity to the throne, or rather to the heart, of God.

Religion and Healing.

The curative properties of religion is a much mooted question. No one denies the power of the mind over the body. The soul-life of man is an unexplored territory. Psychology stands in awe before the revealed majesty of the hidden forces resident in man.
Within a limited sphere, a mind can,
by its will and strength of purpose counteract the effects of certain bodily ailments or of feelings occasioned by physical ills. Upon this misguided men and women have built a system full of error and disastrous to human life. Faith is a potent factor in checking disease. But it can never be perfectly remedial, without the agency of nature as an assistant. The will can conquer and triumph up to a certain point. Beyond that it is helpless. It is, therefore, the height of folly to expect religion to wholly supplant the healing science and by means of it, in possibly the form of prayer and fixed intent, to effect a cure in another.
Fanatic science healers in more than one instance have been brought face to face with our courts of law. The parent is the guardian of the child's life. If that life be carelessly handled the state may step in and check the disposition to abuse it on the part of the father and mother. Recently a number of such cases have been reported and steps have been taken to deal with them summarily. It is as much a crime for a parent to sit idly by, uttering prayers and determining upon the good health of an infant prostrated by an attack of pneumonia,
as it is for that criminal father deliberately to take the offspring's life by direct means or premeditated assault. It is only a question of the degree. It is murder in both instances.
And the state as the general guardian of its wards and citizens must protect the helpless progeny of a misguided set, in spite of all protests that religious organizations should be free in the observance of all their practices, that parents own their children because they are theirs. The prosecuting attorney should take the matter in hand.

The Voice of the People.

Suffrage is recognition of the individual. Popular suffrage is the highest form of democracy, because by it the most important concession is granted to the citizens constituting the commonwealth. The prerogative implied in voting is a yielding to the voice of the people directly as to their choice of officeholders and legislative representatives, indirectly on all the gravest questions of the day and enactments touching their solution.

Vox populi, vox dei, the voice of the people is the voice of God, is equivalent to the Talmudic maxim,

קול המון כקול ד'

We are not prepared fully to agree with this. The decision rendered by the people as expressed by the ballot box may not approach the goal of truth and right nearly as much as when a keen-sighted and thoughtful observer records the result of his deliberation. The greatest battles in the moral world have been fought by the high-minded one man who was arrayed against all the forces of numbers and masses of men.

The election to take place next week
while indirectly involving questions of right and wrong, must and will prove one thing—what the people think and what they want. The ballot box easily lends itself to a nobler interpretation as the קול ד', the voice of God.

But in our opinion the whole thing resolves itself into the one element of every citizen being given the opportunity to register his wish. As such a proceeding we can take no exception to the result and whatever the outcome, we must, whether partisan or otherwise, yield to the will of the majority as the most expeditious method of determining who shall and who shall not represent us, act for us
and hold offices of public trust.

Wisdom and prudence dictate that every citizen should be careful of his choice of candidates. It is an all important matter that the right men be selected and that every aid to the intelligent exercise of the elective power should be consulted and kindly received by them who are to cast ballots
for men who are to occupy offices,
whether judicial, state or national.

Evil Reports Contradicted.

They who builded unwisely on the reported words of the archæologist Rabbi Martin Meyer have learned, perhaps too late, that he himself apologized for his misquoted statements,
and that subsequently the proper officials came out in refutation of the ridiculous assertion credited to Myer.

What a blow it must be to the Shreveport editor of the Jewish Chronicle of Mobile, Rabbi M. P. Jacobson, to ascertain that his charges against orthodoxy were based upon fabrica-tions, mere illusions, of the reporter-ial or auditor's brain!

How keenly do they who were armed with a strong weapon against Zionism
now feel their disappointment!

The work prosecuted by the Jewish Colonization Society is productive of good in every direction. Meshummodim are not at the head of the Jewish community. The morality of Jerusalem as a city, is not below but above that of other cities of the Orient. And so on with the whole list of grave accusations which were widely circulated as the result of keen observation
by a scholarly young American.

Now that the arguments from facts
are so clearly disproven, we expect Rabbi-Editor Jacobson to amend his own views and admit that Reform is inferior to Orthodoxy. It would be highly improper and unfair if he did not do so.

As for Zionism, nothing could injure the cause which is concerned with a central idea by no means wholly involved in the fate of Palestine or Jerusalem, but which has adopted the name of Zion because it is something tangible wherewith to conjure up the spirit of the dead or slumbering past, by awakening present loyalty for Israel's nationality.

Finally, we ask: If Meyer's words seem to have been so misquoted and misunderstood at last season's Chautaqua, what was the use of his saying anything at all, unless it was to get on the programme and later to be elected at Albany, N. Y.?

Intermarriage Again.

Judging from the recent controversy, prolonged over a number of issues of one of our Southern exchanges, the question of intermarriage has bobbed up serenely to disturb the peace of some of the communities of that section of the country, and not a few rabbis there situated.

It seems that one of the younger clerical gentlemen with the arrogance characteristic of a certain class of the members of the cloth, decided for himself that he ought to officiate at such a mixed marriage, offering as a reason no less an important argument than that, if he did not do it, someone else, notably a magistrate, would do it. In other words, he looked upon himself as a somewhat better Justice of the Peace than the ordinary one who sits in his office and tries petty cases in the country. For what was the Hebrew Union College of Cincinnati established, do its catalogues expatiate upon the merits of its curriculum with its Coptic and Egyptian instruction,
does the institution annually bestow
its diploma, the S'mecha kiss and all—that its rabbis and graduates should in later years run in opposition to the petty lawyer elevated by politics and
"pull" to the position of the meanest
dispensers of justice?

We know that much as we must deprecate the regrettable occurrences,
young men and women of opposite faiths will meet and fall in love with one another. We realize that one man and one law cannot change this one fact now disintegrating the ranks of the Jews in small as well as in large cities. But we also appreciate the fact, that a large percentage of these cases of mixed marriages have proven practical failures as an experiment, virtual mesalliances, causing much vexation and heart-burnings in later years. What warrant, then, from a religious as well as practical standpoint, has a rabbi who is vested with his authority to officiate at weddings
only because he is a Jew, recognized by a Jewish community, sent out and armed with the power by an institution claiming to be Jewish, to step outside of his limits and take the place of a mere judiciary or minor city official? You are sowing the wind, young rabbis, and somebody will have to reap the harvest of a whirlwind.

Nobility of character manifests itself
at loop-holes when it is not provided with large doors.

Judge Steckler.

The general favor which attends the candidacy of Judge Steckler for the Supreme Court indicates that he will be elected by the people to fill the station which he now occupies by appointment from Governor Odell.

The greater part of the life of Judge Steckler since he has attained his majority has been spent upon the bench, and the rest of the time has been in the practice of his profession. His occupancy of the bench of the Fourth Judicial District Court for twelve years has been marked by an honest devotion to duty and impartiality in its discharge, which has brought him renown and gained for him the highest regard of the bar and of the people.

With an experience thus gained upon the bench and a large and varied practice, Judge Steckler is fully equipped for the place in which his fellow citizens seek to retain him in.

In the short period of time which Judge Steckler has occupied the seat on the Supreme Court bench, he has given further evidence of his thorough fitness to fulfill properly the duties of that high office. His decisions in some of the most important cases, involving great interests, have been of such a character as to challenge the admiration of the legal and lay members of the community. Add to these qualifications the possession of a handsome presence and marked social attributes, there can be no reason why he should not receive the votes of our citizens independent of party.

While he has always been a devoted member of the Jewish faith and identified with the communal and charitable interests, it is not because of his being a Hebrew that we ask our readers to cast their votes for Judge Steck-ler, but because of his possession of the qualifications which eminently fit him for the office of Justice of the Supreme Court.

Francis Burton Harrison.

Mr Francis Burton Harrison, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 15th District, has made a canvass that is attracting considerable attention among the Hebrews. This was first due to the fact that his letter of endorsement contained the names of Nathan Straus, Henry Morgenthau
and William Salomon, in a list with which these names, as well as outside of them, was a notable one. Inquiry into the record of Mr. Harrison naturally followed and it was learned that it was one essentially broad-minded, liberal and just, on all questions in which our people are interested.

At the time of the Dreyfus excitement young Mr. Harrison was outspoken, both in public and in private,
in favor of the accused Captain, and in deprecation at the attitude of his enemies and the methods they employed, and the inspiration of their attack.

Mr. Harrison had prepared a strong article on this subject, making a particular point against the French jury system in comparison with our own based on the Dreyfus case. This address was made before the Legal Society and was highly commended for its broad, humanitarian spirit, as well as for its legal acumen and literary merits. These facts, as well as his enlistment in the war with Spain, are well known to quite a number of our citizens, and it will be surprising, indeed, if they do not have some effect

in this campaign that would be to his advantage.

Needless Formalism.

The verger or caretaker of an abbey
in England once espied a worshipper with bended knee upon the pavement of the Cathedral, deeply absorbed in prayer. He rudely shook the devout man and gave him to understand that if everybody who came into the church was to kneel down and pray, the stones would soon be so worn down
as to make an uneven surface.

The trustees and rabbis of congregations handle their people in somewhat the same way, constantly dis-illusioning them in the matter of the true and deep significance of religion.

They say to the people: "This building is a Reform Temple and you dare not pray with your hats on your heads."

"You are supposed to join the congregation and pay the dues as we assess them, even if you cannot afford it."

"Our services are not complete without an expensive choir. The seats will for that reason be raised in price
for you this year."

"Your coming to the synagogue is a mere formality, because we need you to fill up the benches when our dear rabbi lectures."

"Send your children to the Sunday-school, whether they learn anything or not, otherwise they will not be confirmed in our synagogue or temple."

"Our sexton is supposed to be courteous to all strangers. But if he is not, do not blame us. Show him a plethoric pocketbook and he will respect you."

"Take out your purse and display huge rolls of bills and the ushers will welcome you to a seat as readily as strict compliance with Solomon's prayer that this 'shall be a house of prayer for all nations' will permit them to do."

"You may go to our temple whenever the spirit moves you and you feel inclined to pray, but you can find the building open only on state occasions, Sabbaths and holidays."

"If you have not said your prayers
at home you may do so in our temples, but it is disturbing and highly indecorous to have you stand up or recite your prayers, unless you do so when the entire congregation is expected to rise or when everybody is on the programme for the responses."

These are but few of the implied restrictions which serve to make the temple of formalities, high-toned usages and discriminating distinctions.

Therefore are the temples cold structures, and the rabbis regarded as soulless and sometimes mercenary creatures, in whom no warm trust and confidence may be reposed.

These conditions may soon be changed. We hope they will be.

Why do the Reformers keep on quoting rabbinical sentences about מורה and making constant references to the changes of custom? Because the last syllable of the word, "hog,"
makes such delightful food for them
in various forms.

Languages begin by being a music,
and end by being algebra.

Sorrow and silence are strong and patient endurance is godlike.

The Mirror.

Probably the most sincerely beloved Rabbi in this city is Dr. H. Pereira Mendes, of the Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue. By his earnestness and thorough-going piety he has won for himself a unique place in Jewish circles, and a decidedly favorable one in the hearts of thousands of Jewish men and women throughout Greater New York. He has always been a consistent and loyal Jew. Withal he has been recognized by all classes as an exemplary leader and a minister to be highly respected. I understand that his friends contemplate making the 25th anniversary of his connection with the Spanish and Portuguese Congregation, an occasion which shall mark the event in the annals of that ancient and honored organization. The HEBREW STANDARD takes this opportunity to express its own admiration of the career of a man who is esteemed by all classes alike for his probity and strong manhood, and hopes that Dr. Mendes' friends may succeed in their plans to worthily honor the man and the event.

The Hebrew Union College Journal opens its new year with a new cover, new style, and a certain degree of independence. It declares itself to be free of any attachment for the alumni of the institution, individually and collectively, a very peculiar thing to do in a college journal. Its motto is also calculated to impress one with its independence and almost libertine license, as it begins with the words

מנהג מביטל את ההלכה

"Custom abolishes law." Just what this means on the cover of the journal issued from a theological seminary I do not know, unless it refers to rampant Radicalism and nihilistic Reform of which the editing youngsters and undergraduates are staunch advocates. If this bespeaks the present government of the College, it is sadly lacking the sagacious head and tactical wisdom of the founder, Dr. I. M. Wise, who, with all his faults, would not have countenanced so marked a declaration of principles tending to the severance of Judaism old and new.

Another noticeable feature is the attack of Dr. Henry Malter upon that former idol of the Reform Conferences Dr. S. Sonnenschein. I refer my rabbinical friends to that splendid piece of direct abuse and harsh criticism, and they can no longer maintain that the "Mirror" of the HEBREW STANDARD is unnecessarily censorious. Why my lucubrations are as the gentle April showers compared with the violent hailstorm of words and invectives which Professor Malter calls down upon the devoted head of the offending Sonnenschein. Oh, how these learned men love one another!

The burden of the controversy is a dispute concerning the Shulchan Aruch. What business have they to enter into any argument about a book they totally ignore in practice, and the authority of which they deny. Whatever the literary features of the difference between Sonnenschein and Malter, they as Reformers agree upon one thing. This harmony they overlook entirely. The code-book is to each one a dead letter. Why, brethren, then quarrel about a dead object?

Young Rabbi (disgusted): "I preached to a congregation of asses to-day." Temple Member: "I noticed that you addressed them as 'dear brothers.'"

There used to be a Rabbi who was famed for his success in adjusting disputes. One day his wife, anxious to know by what means he managed to pour oil on troubled waters with such good effect, determined to listen outside his study door whilst he interviewed his "clients." First she heard a husband pouring out to the Rabbi a long string of complaints anent his wife. "You are quite right," he ventured to every charge. Shortly after the man had gone the wife came with her story of woes. "You are quite right," was the Rabbi's expressed opinion. This puzzled the Rabbi's wife. "How do you decide?" she asked. "A man complains of his wife; you say he is right. The wife complains of the man; you say she is right. Surely that can't be right." "You are quite right, my dear," was all the Rabbi's reply.

They are not politicians, but regular handshakers. I refer to the custom in vogue in some of our orthodox congregations of shaking hands with the Parnass and Vice-President after being "called up." Why they fail to extend the same civility to the Rav or the Chazan, has always been a puzzle to me. I think that a courteous bow in acknowledgement of the honor would be an ample sufficiency.

The anachronisms of some of our so called conservative congregations forcibly remind me of the picture of the sacrifice of Isaac, where Abraham is depicted with a shot-gun pointed at his son and his attempt frustrated by an angel pouring water on it, or that of Eli wearing spectacles while instructing Samiel, or Jacob's journey to Egypt in a stage coach.

An up-town conservative congregation, whose former president congratulated the members upon their "progressive spirit" in having introduced an organ (which was a second-hand affair costing $750), were regaled on Yom Kippur eve after the chanting of Kol Nidray in the old-fashioned melody, by a violin obligato. The next day they were again regaled for nearly an hour with Mi shebeyrach. This is only one of the peculiar phases of American Judaism.

The contest for the position of representative from the 9th Congressional District between Goldfogle and Adler, will be productive of much happiness to one of them. They are both bachelors, and it seems that the victor is under promise to marry within the coming year. The pretty girls on the East Side are busy guessing whom Judge Goldfogle will marry.

In a private letter to the "About Town" man, Dr. W. E. Brown of Alta Vista tells the following story that shows if the heart is right it makes little difference whether we be Greek, Jew, Barbarian, Scythian, bond or free: "Two years ago the M. E. Church at Albany, N. Y., burned and all denominations offered their church edifices for use by the burned out congregation. Among these the Jewish Rabbi offered the Jewish Synagogue, and the M. E. congregation voted to accept. Our friend Rev. Dr. Clymer told us his experience with the Rabbi. He said to the Rabbi: "Rabbi, that was a beautiful Christian act on the part of yourself and congregation to offer your beautiful synagogue to the First Church to worship in." "Not at all, Doctor," answered the Rabbi, "you call it Christian, we term it Jewish, meaning the same thing, but not so far apart after the clouds blow away."

At a recent police court sitting a man was fined forty shilling and the costs for assaulting a policeman. Considering himself a much injured man, on reaching the door he began abusing the Magistrate in very violent language. The Magistrate sent an officer after him, and the delinquent found himself once more in the dock, and fined again for contempt of court.

"My man, if you had been more chaste and refined in your language," said the Magistrate, "you would not have been chased and re-fined"—Tid Bits.

Engagement Party.

A large assemblage of people were present on last Sunday at the residence of ex-Alderman Peter Hirschfeld, No. 411 Kent avenue, Brooklyn, where the engagement of his daughter Ray to Mr Samuel J. Cohen was celebrated.

Numerous relatives and friends called to offer their felicitations, and it was very late hour before the many guests departed. Those who helped to entertain were: Master "Charley" Mark; Mr. Michael Marks, Mr. Charles Selnes, Mr. N. Neuman, and Miss Ray Hirschfeld. Dancing was enjoyed during the evening, followed by a collation.

Among the many present were: Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hirschfeld, Mr. and Mrs. I. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cohen; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cohen, Miss Minnie Cohen, Miss Rose Cohen, Mr. Alex. Cohen, Mr. Harry Cohen, Miss Ray Cohen, Miss Mary Cohen, Master Edward, Charley and David Cohen, and Mr. Jacob Cohen, Mrs. H. Tobin, Mr. Samuel Boll, Miss Rose Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. L. Mayer, Mrs. S. Jacobs, Miss Mamie Jacobs, Mr. P. Jacobs, Mr.

H. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Specktorsky, Mr. and Mrs. H. Specktorsky, Mr. J. Specktorsky, Mr. Dave Benjamin, Mr. and Mrs. L. Benjamin, Miss Carrie Simon, and many others.

Amphion Theatre.

In speaking of Andrew Mack's latest play a well-known critic says: "Irish dramas have been for years going over the same stereotyped ground until I confess they have become for me somewhat monotonous. Of course, I refer to the plays concocted for the American market, not such clever pieces as 'The White Horse of the Peppers,' 'Rory O'Moore,' 'The Jilt' and a half dozen other, well-told plays that in their day achieved success. But after seeing Andrew Mack's the warm-hearted Irish poet, Tom Moore, I can honestly say that at last we have enjoyed a really charming play, most capably acted by the best Irish actor that the stage has seen in years. Both play and player are simply delightful, for they both possess artistic qualities, neither descend to the commonplace." Mr. Mack will have the support of a high-class company, said to be even better than when last seen here. He is announced to appear at the Amphion Theatre, Brooklyn, on Monday night.

FOR CONGRESS,
THIRTEENTH DISTRICT,
Regular Democratic Nomination

Justice William E. Werner,
Republican Nominee for Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Judge Werner's conspicuous abilities would alone commend him to fair-minded men of all parties. But aside from his brilliant record on the bench, he is one of the most remarkable instances of self-made manhood this country has produced. Seldom indeed is so strong an all-round man presented to the people for any office.

The story of Judge Werner's life is one that appeals to the American mind and heart. It is the story of a poor orphan working his way to a seat on the Court of Appeals and illustrating the almost limitless possibilities of American manhood. The example of Judge Werner is an inspiration not only to every struggling lawyer, but to struggling humanity everywhere under the Stars and Stripes. It tends to good citizenship and to the repression of anarchical doctrines.

The meteoric rise of Werner from orphan errand boy, from the Cheektowaga farm, where he did chores, from the Buffalo molder's bench to the bar, to the Supreme Court bench and thence to the Court of Appeals, is indeed stranger than fiction. All Americans feel proud of such a character because it illustrates the real greatness of a free country, reversing the gloomy pessimism of the Old World poet expressed in the familiar line, "Slow rises worth by poverty depressed."

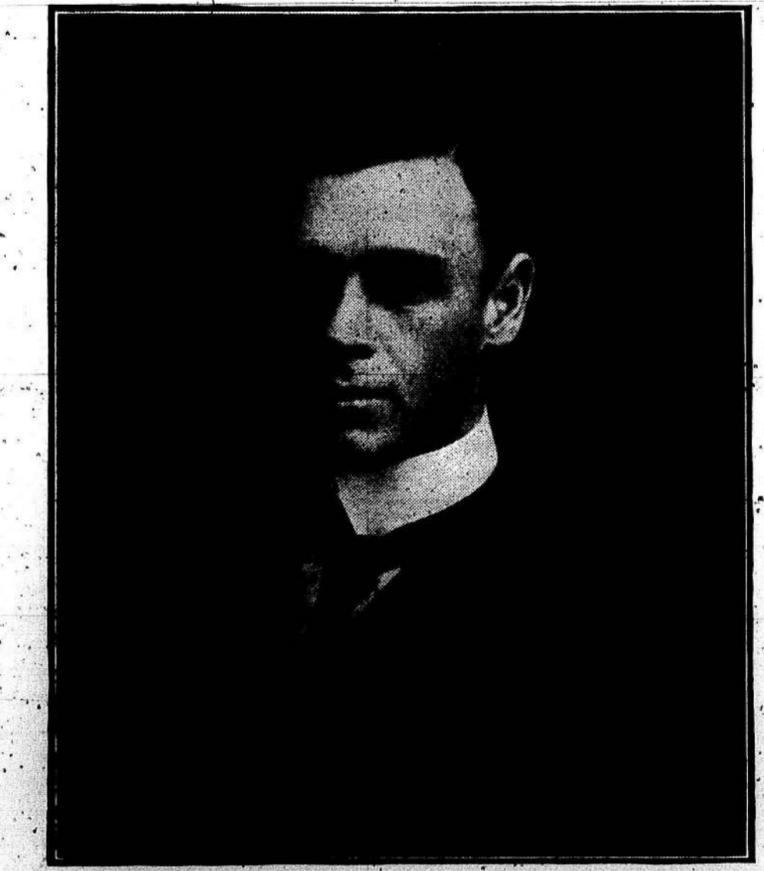

The mere mention of his name for the Court of Appeals is naturally hailed with enthusiasm by Democrats and Republicans alike. The other day they read his opinion in the great Molleux case, written by him for the Court of Appeals, which he now adorns, and they recalled with pride the poor boy who but a few years ago drove a delivery wagon through their streets.

Judge Werner has claims on the regard of the people of the entire State on the ground of merit of the highest order. He is, by common consent, the logical candidate for judge of the Court of Appeals for the obvious reason that he is there now and has demonstrated exceptional abilities in the discharge of the responsible duties.

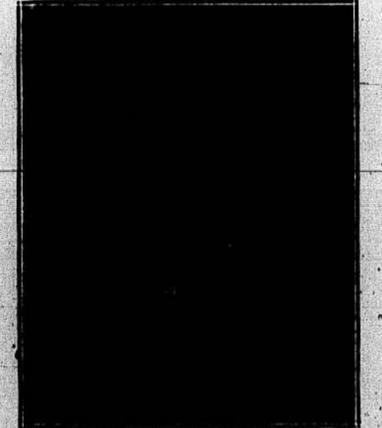

Judge Werner is one of the kindest and most approachable of men. His judicial mind and dignified bearing on the bench are universally admired, but his elevation to the woollack has not turned his head or his heart. There is nothing of the aristocrat in his makeup. He is courteous to all, but especially to the deserving poor and unfortunate. Judge Werner is pre-eminently a man of the people, and that is why he is such a whirlwind vote-getter.

The friend of labor, from whose ranks he sprang, Judge Werner would attract the support of the men with whose struggles he is able to sympathize from experience. Politically, geographically, and on the ground of fitness, the nomination of Werner is a strong one and he will poll thousands of votes in New York, where his popularity is phenomenal.

After graduating from college, Mr. Eisberg engaged for two years in editorial and newspaper work, and was associate editor of the American Economist, published by the American Protective Tariff League. At the same time he studied law and, entering the law school of the University of the City of New York, was graduated with honors in 1893, and shortly afterward was admitted to the bar. Mr. Eisberg is a representative Israelite and a member of numerous Jewish communal organizations.

to his utterances on questions directly concerning their welfare.

Mr. Steckler was born in this city December 18, 1856. He was educated in the public schools. While still comparatively a boy he was chosen President of the Peter Cooper Literary Society, the debating society of the Cooper Union, and the Hebrew Union, and it was while presiding over these organizations that he acquired the power in debate which stood him well in after years. He had to work for the money which he needed to train himself in his chosen profession of the law. He was graduated from the Columbia College Law School in 1877, and has since practiced his profession with his brother, Charles.

Because of the attention he devoted to the study of politics and economic conditions, Mr. Steckler was consulted by the leaders of a great many fraternal and labor organizations. He has been counsel for more of these than any other lawyer in this city, and has long been regarded as an authority on matters of law affecting the rights of such bodies.

Being thoroughly familiar with the conditions of the lower East Side, Mr. Steckler called attention to abuses suffered by those who could not stand against them in the District Courts, which are the courts of first and last resort to the majority of poor litigants. The result of this was the demand for his nomination as Judge of the Fourth District Court.

The controlling political powers refused to nominate him. Thereupon he was nominated as an independent candidate. Tammany Hall, the County Democracy, Irving Hall and the Republican organizations united in nominating a candidate to beat Mr. Steckler. He was elected in one of the most memorable political district contests in the history of this city. He sat on the bench for twelve years, beginning in 1881.

As the Judge of that Court Mr. Steckler inaugurated many reforms. He abolished the dispossess bureau, which was an incubus then existing to the detriment of poor tenants, for the landlord was compelled to pay extortionate fees for dispossession of the tenant, and if the tenant sought to prevent eviction, he would have to pay the rent with these extortionate fees. By abolishing this system of illegal fees in dispossess cases Judge Steckler benefitted the landlord and tenant alike.

Another reform which he inaugurated in the district courts was in the matter of drawing juries where the parties demanded a jury trial. He had the boxes containing the jury list brought in the open courts, and the names were drawn in the presence of the parties interested in the case. It is a noteworthy fact that in the many thousands of cases that came up before Judge Steckler jury trials were not demanded in more than about a dozen cases.

In order to put a stop to the extortion practiced by lawyers on and lawyers of a certain class in the district courts—which extortion was made easy through the fact that the population of that district was mainly foreign—Judge Steckler had large placards posted at the entrance to his court, printed in various languages, informing the people just what fees were allowed by law for each step in any litigation in which they might be involved. In this way the people came to trust him and to come to him for advice. In 1886, when the district was suffering from the existence of a vast number of disorderly houses and the police refused to drive them out, Judge Steckler dispossessed them and in a week the nuisance was abated.

As counsel to fraternal organizations and labor unions, Judge Steckler has prepared most of the bills which have been introduced and passed through the Legislature in behalf of such bodies. He is and has been counsel for a score of labor unions, among them being the Musical Protective Union, the Bricklayers' Union, the Cigar Makers' Union, the Tailors' Union, the Brotherhood of Varnishers and Steam Fitters' Union.

Among the charitable institutions with which Judge Steckler is identified are the Hebrew Orphan Asylum, the Isabella Helmath, the Montefiore Home, the Hebrew Sheltering Society, Mount Sinai Hospital and the Home for Aged and Infirm Hebrews. He is also connected with the Masonic order, the Independent Order Free Sons of Israel, Independent Order B'nai B'rith, Independent Order of Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias.

Lewis A. Abrams.

Lewis A. Abrams, Democratic candidate for Assembly of the Thirty-first Assembly District, was born in the city of New York on March 5, 1872; attended the public schools of New York, and graduated therefrom in 1895.

After leaving school he took a position with a large mercantile concern, and remained in commercial circles until 1894, when he was appointed stamp clerk in the New York postoffice.

During the time he was employed in the postal service he studied law at night, and was admitted to practice in the State of New York in the month of June, 1897. He has followed this profession from the time of his admission to practice, and has built up a large and successful clientele.

Mr. Abrams is known to be an earnest supporter of public movements. He is a member of several well known clubs, societies and organizations, among which are the Jefferson Club, the Harlem Democratic Club, the Columbia Club, the United Brethren Benefit Society, the Polo Athletic Club, the Wendell Phillips Lodge, Knights of Pythias, beside numerous other charitable benevolent organizations.

Mr. Abrams is also vice-chairman of the General Committee of Tammany Hall, Thirty-first Assembly District.

IN THE THEATRES.

Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre.
Minnie Seligman will make her reappearance as leading woman of the Proctor stock company at the Fifth Avenue on Monday, November 3, playing Rosalind in a sumptuous revival of "As You Like It," presented with the original music and accessories in the Daly Theatre presentation. Frederic Bond, who was for many years a valued member of Daly's company, and who is now general stage director of the Proctor stock, will personally supervise the rehearsals and stage the presentation. Moses & Wamilton's studio has turned out a gorgeous scenic embellishment, and "As You Like It" will be given the most careful production of any play the Fifth Avenue stock company has yet attempted.

Princess Theatre.
No play of recent years in New York City has caused more discussion than "The Night of the Party," now being presented at the Princess Theatre, by Mr. Weedon Grossmith and his English company, which was brought to this country from the Avenue Theatre, London, by Messrs. Skubert and Daniel V. Arthur. This English farce, which was written by Mr. Grossmith, appears to have certainly caught New York as no play of this type of recent years has done. Its present popularity can be likened only to the farces made famous by the late Rosina Vokes, in whose support, by the way, Mr. Grossmith was first seen in this country.

The company supporting Mr. Grossmith is exceptionally strong, and although it may safely be stated that this engagement ranks as one of the most important in our dramatic field to-day.

Proctor's Fifty-eighth Street Theatre.
"On the Bowery," a faithful picture of New York life, will be given by the stock company, with Ralph Cummings and Edna Archer Crawford in the principal parts. The original scenery will be used, and the many stirring scenes which made the play so successful as a road attraction, will be faithfully depicted. Vaudeville will have place between acts, and during the action of the play, J. J. Morton being the feature.

Wallack's Theatre.
Miss Henrietta Crossman's popularity with women has been strikingly manifested at Wallack's Theatre, New York. At two successive Saturday matinees of "The Sword of the King" the big audiences of women have insisted on a speech from Miss Crossman. Speech-making from the stage on special occasions, such as first nights, is not uncommon, but for audiences to demand it at ordinary performances, and matinees at that, is extraordinary. It shows the great admiration in which Miss Crossman is held by her own sex. In both of her speeches Miss Crossman asserted that she liked to play to women.

Proctor's One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street Theatre.
"The Wages of Sin," a favorite old melodrama, will be played by the Proctor stock company at this popular Harlem theatre. Adelaide Keim, Ned Howard Fowler, Chas. M. Seay, Sol Aiken and other favorites in the permanent stock will have leading roles. There will be special scenery for the production, and the many stirring scenes will be faithfully brought out. Joe Welch, the famous Hebrew impersonator, will be the vaudeville feature.

Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre.
Big bills of continuous vaudeville attract great throngs to this favorite resort, and Mr. Proctor is enjoying the best season in his career as manager of this house. For election week the variety here will be fully up to the accustomed standard of excellence, including Kelley's Zouaves, Kitamura's Japs, George Evans, H. V. Fitzgerald, Sullivan and Pasquellina, Imhoff and Conn, Letto and Della, Bessonettes and Newman, Whitley and Bell, and others. The Sunday concerts begin at 1.30 p. m., and are continuous.

New Star Theatre.
For next week "Arizona" will be the offering at the New Star Theatre. This play, by Augustus Thomas, is regarded as the best truly American drama ever produced and its long runs at the Herald Square and Academy of Music have not yet tended to dim its popularity. The scenes are laid in Arizona, and the action is tense and holds the auditor until the very end. The company is capable, and will be augmented by a large corps of supernumeraries for this engagement. Special matinee on election day.

Harlem Opera House.
Robert Edison will make his stellar debut in Harlem Monday night, when he will present his dramatization of Richard Harding Davis' "Soldiers of Fortune" at the Harlem Opera House, for one week, including a special matinee on election day. "Soldiers of Fortune" was originally produced at the Savoy Theatre last Spring, and met with success enough to warrant its presentation again at the opening of the season this Fall. The story is an interesting one, and as presented by Mr. Edison and his carefully selected company affords a delightful evening's entertainment.

Messrs. Clarence I. De Sola and Robert Goldman acted as Hatau Torah and Hatau Bereshith in the Spanish and Portuguese synagogues. The congregational S'udah was beautifully decorated this year, and was thronged with visitors after every service. On one occasion the toast of the choir was proposed and received with great enthusiasm. Spirited speeches were made by several gentlemen present, and a high tribute was paid to the choir, which is a purely voluntary one, for the invaluable service it had rendered the congregation. The annual meeting of the Baron de Hirsch Institute was held on Sunday. The reports showed that excellent work had been done during the year, and that increased financial support was required. The retiring officers were re-elected.

Troy, N. Y.

On Sunday, October 26, 1902, the first examination of the boys of the recently opened Talmud-Torah took place at the Synagogue Shaarei Tefilat, Division Street.

Mr. Henry Harris, the principal, called the pupils, sixty in number, to order, and the chairman, Mr. H. Kuschewsky in a stirring address outlined the history of that noble institution, after which the boys were examined in reading, Hebrew translation, Bible history and composition. The prompt and intelligent and accurate answers of the pupils was a most delightful surprise to the ladies and gentlemen present, and it has indeed reflected volumes of praise upon the reputable principal, Mr. Henry Harris, and his assistant, Mr. E. Modell, taking into consideration that the Talmud-Torah is but an infant four months of age.

Rabbi H. M. Lasker and Mr. Henry Harris also spoke eloquently, the former in Yiddish, the latter in English.

Under the management of F. L. Morhard, the Albany Dental Association has rapidly advanced to the fore, and to-day is recognized as one of the leading dental establishments of the metropolis. New and up-to-date methods are in vogue here, and all work is absolutely painless, and the many years that they have been established in the one locality is a sufficient guarantee as to their reliability. The location, No. 291 Third avenue, near Twenty-third street, is central and easy of access by all lines. Their prices are very reasonable, as the following will show:

Extraction, 25 cents, and with painless method (no gas), 50 cents. Sets of gum teeth, $6.50. Full upper and lower sets, $12. Partial plates, from $1.50 to $6.50. Crown and bridge work a specialty. Gold crowns, $6.50. Porcelain crown on pivot teeth, $4. Open evenings until 9; Sundays, from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Concurrent Resolutions

STATE OF NEW YORK, OFFICE OF THE Secretary of State, Albany, July 25, 1902.—Pursuant to the provisions of section one of article fourteen of the Constitution of the State of New York, and section seven of Chapter nine hundred and ninety-six, notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to section ten of article eight of the Constitution of the State of New York is referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next General Election of Senators in this State to be held on the fourth day of November, nineteen hundred and two.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE. Concurrent Resolution of the Senate and Assembly, Proposing an amendment to section ten of article eight of the Constitution, relating to the limitation of indebtedness of counties, cities, towns and villages, by excepting the city of New York from the provisions of said section after the first day of January, nineteen hundred and four.

Section 1. Resolved (if the Assembly concur) that section ten of article eight of the Constitution be amended to read as follows: Article VIII, § 10. No county, city, town or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become directly or indirectly the owner of stock in, or bonds of, any association or corporation; nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provision for the aid or support of its poor as may be authorized by law. No county or city shall be allowed to become indebted for any purpose or in any manner to an amount which, including existing indebtedness, shall exceed ten per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of such county or city subject to taxation, as it appeared by the assessment-rolls of said county or city on the last assessment for state or county taxes prior to the incurring of such indebtedness; and all indebtedness in excess of such limitation, except such as now may exist, shall be absolutely void, except as herein otherwise provided. No county or city whose present indebtedness exceeds ten per centum of the assessed valuation of its real estate subject to taxation, shall be allowed to become indebted in any further amount until such indebtedness shall be reduced within such limit. This section shall not be construed to prevent the issuing of certificates of indebtedness or revenue bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes for amounts actually contained, or to be contained, in the taxes for the year when such certificates or revenue bonds are issued and payable out of such taxes. Nor shall this section be construed to prevent the issue of bonds to provide for the supply of water; but the term of the bonds issued to provide the supply of water shall not exceed twenty years, and a sinking fund shall be created on the issuing of the said bonds for their redemption, by raising annually a sum which will produce an amount equal to the sum of the principal and interest of said bonds at their maturity. All certificates of indebtedness or revenue bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes, which are not retired within five years after their date of issue, and bonds issued to provide for the supply of water, and any debt hereafter incurred by any portion or part of a city, if there shall be any such debt, shall be included in ascertaining the power of the city to become otherwise indebted; except that debts incurred by the city of New York after the first day of January, nineteen hundred and four, to provide for the supply of water shall not be so included. Whenever the boundaries of any city are the same as those of a county, or when any city shall include within its boundaries more than one county, the power of any county wholly included within such city to become indebted shall cease, but the debt of the county, heretofore existing, shall not, for the purposes of this section, be reckoned as a part of the city debt. The amount hereafter to be raised by tax for county or city purposes, in any county containing a city of over one hundred thousand inhabitants, or any such city of this state, in addition to providing for the principal and interest of existing debt, shall not in the aggregate exceed in any one year two per centum of the assessed valuation of the real and personal estate of such county or city, to be ascertained as prescribed in this section in respect to county or city debt. § 2. Resolved (if the Assembly concur) that the foregoing amendment be referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in conformity with section one, article fourteen of the Constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

passed, a majority of all the senators elected voting in favor thereof. By order of the senate, TIMOTHY L. WOODRUFF, President. State of New York: In Assembly, April 22, 1901.—The foregoing resolution was July passed, a majority of all the members elected to the assembly voting in favor thereof. By order of the assembly, S. F. NIXON, Speaker. State of New York, Office of the Secretary of State, ss: I have compared the preceding copy of concurrent resolution, proposing an amendment to article six, of the Constitution, with the original concurrent resolution on file in this office, and I do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole thereof. Given under my hand and the seal of office of the Secretary of State, at the city of Albany, this twenty-fifth day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and two [L. S.] JOHN T. McDONOUGH, Secretary of State.

STATE OF NEW YORK, OFFICE OF THE Secretary of State, Albany, July 25, 1902.—Pursuant to the provisions of section one of article fourteen of the Constitution of the State of New York, and section seven of Chapter nine hundred and ninety-six, notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to article seven of the Constitution of the State of New York is referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next General Election of Senators in this State to be held on the fourth day of November, nineteen hundred and two.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE. Concurrent Resolution of the Senate and Assembly, Proposing an amendment to article seven of the constitution in relation to the payment of debts of the State. Section 1. Resolved (if the assembly concur) that article seven of the constitution be amended by adding thereto a new section to be known as section eleven, to read as follows: Article VII, § 11. The legislature may appropriate out of any funds in the treasury, moneys to pay the accruing interest and principal of any debt heretofore or hereafter created, or any part thereof and may set apart in each fiscal year, moneys in the state treasury as a sinking fund to pay the interest as it falls due and to pay and discharge the principal of any debt heretofore or hereafter created under section four of article seven of the constitution until the same shall be wholly paid, and the principal and income of such sinking fund shall be applied to the purpose for which said sinking fund is created and to no other purpose whatever; and, in the event such moneys so set apart in any fiscal year be sufficient to provide such sinking fund, a direct annual tax for such year need not be imposed and collected, as required by the provisions of said section four of article seven, or of any law enacted in pursuance thereof. § 2. Resolved (if the assembly concur) that the foregoing amendment be referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in conformity with section one, article fourteen of the Constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Senate, February 28, 1901.—The foregoing resolution was duly passed, a majority of all the senators elected voting in favor thereof. By order of the senate, T. E. ELLSWORTH, Temporary President.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Assembly, March 14, 1901.—The foregoing resolution was duly passed, a majority of all the members elected to the assembly voting in favor thereof. By order of the assembly, S. F. NIXON, Speaker.

STATE OF NEW YORK, Office of the Secretary of State, ss: I have compared the preceding copy of concurrent resolution, proposing an amendment to section ten of article eight, of the Constitution, with the original concurrent resolution on file in this office, and I do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole thereof. Given under my hand and the seal of office of the Secretary of State, at the city of Albany, this twenty-fifth day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and two. [L. S.] JOHN T. McDONOUGH, Secretary of State.

The foregoing Concurrent Resolution is published once a week for three months next preceding the next general election in conformity to the aforesaid provisions, in two public newspapers in each county in this State representing respectively the two political parties polling the highest number of votes at the last general election, and in one additional newspaper in each county for every one hundred thousand people in such county as shown by the last preceding State Enumeration, JOHN T. McDONOUGH, Secretary of State.

STATE OF NEW YORK, OFFICE OF THE Secretary of State, Albany, July 25, 1902.—Pursuant to the provisions of section one of article fourteen of the Constitution of the State of New York, and section seven of Chapter nine hundred and ninety-six, notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to article six of the Constitution of the State of New York is referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next General Election of Senators in this State to be held on the fourth day of November, nineteen hundred and two.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO. Concurrent Resolution proposing amendment to article six of the constitution, relating to the election of additional justices of the supreme court, in the words following: Resolved (if the assembly concur) that the sixth article of the constitution be amended by adding thereto the following section: Section 24. At the general election next after the adoption of this amendment, there shall be elected, and thereafter as the offices become vacant through expiration of term or otherwise, by the electors of the second judicial district two justices of the supreme court in addition to the justices of that court, now in office in said judicial district. The justices so elected shall be invested with their offices on the first day of January next after their election.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Senate, April 18, 1901.—The foregoing resolution was duly passed, a majority of all the senators elected voting in favor thereof. By order of the senate, TIMOTHY L. WOODRUFF, President.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Assembly, April 22, 1901.—The foregoing resolution was July passed, a majority of all the members elected to the assembly voting in favor thereof. By order of the assembly, S. F. NIXON, Speaker.

STATE OF NEW YORK, Office of the Secretary of State, ss: I have compared the preceding copy of concurrent resolution, proposing an amendment to article six, of the Constitution, with the original concurrent resolution on file in this office, and I do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole thereof. Given under my hand and the seal of office of the Secretary of State, at the city of Albany, this twenty-fifth day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and two. [L. S.] JOHN T. McDONOUGH, Secretary of State.

passed, a majority of all the senators elected voting in favor thereof. By order of the senate, TIMOTHY L. WOODRUFF, President.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Assembly, April 22, 1901.—The foregoing resolution was July passed, a majority of all the members elected to the assembly voting in favor thereof. By order of the assembly, S. F. NIXON, Speaker.

STATE OF NEW YORK, Office of the Secretary of State, ss: I have compared the preceding copy of concurrent resolution, proposing an amendment to article six, of the Constitution, with the original concurrent resolution on file in this office, and I do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole thereof. Given under my hand and the seal of office of the Secretary of State, at the city of Albany, this twenty-fifth day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and two [L. S.] JOHN T. McDONOUGH, Secretary of State.

The foregoing Concurrent Resolution is published once a week for three months next preceding the next general election in conformity to the aforesaid provisions, in two public newspapers in each county in this State representing respectively the two political parties polling the highest number of votes at the last general election, and in one additional newspaper in each county for every one hundred thousand people in such county as shown by the last preceding State Enumeration, JOHN T. McDONOUGH, Secretary of State.

STATE OF NEW YORK, OFFICE OF THE Secretary of State, Albany, July 25, 1902.—Pursuant to the provisions of section one of article fourteen of the Constitution of the State of New York, and section seven of Chapter nine hundred and ninety-six, notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to article seven of the Constitution of the State of New York is referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next General Election of Senators in this State to be held on the fourth day of November, nineteen hundred and two.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE. Concurrent Resolution of the Senate and Assembly, Proposing an amendment to article seven of the constitution in relation to the payment of debts of the State.

Section 1. Resolved (if the assembly concur) that article seven of the constitution be amended by adding thereto a new section to be known as section eleven, to read as follows: Article VII, § 11. The legislature may appropriate out of any funds in the treasury, moneys to pay the accruing interest and principal of any debt heretofore or hereafter created, or any part thereof and may set apart in each fiscal year, moneys in the state treasury as a sinking fund to pay the interest as it falls due and to pay and discharge the principal of any debt heretofore or hereafter created under section four of article seven of the constitution until the same shall be wholly paid, and the principal and income of such sinking fund shall be applied to the purpose for which said sinking fund is created and to no other purpose whatever; and, in the event such moneys so set apart in any fiscal year be sufficient to provide such sinking fund, a direct annual tax for such year need not be imposed and collected, as required by the provisions of said section four of article seven, or of any law enacted in pursuance thereof. § 2. Resolved (if the assembly concur) that the foregoing amendment be referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in conformity with section one, article fourteen of the Constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Senate, February 18, 1902.—The foregoing resolution was duly passed, a majority of all the senators elected voting in favor thereof. By order of the senate, T. E. ELLSWORTH, Temporary President.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Assembly, March 12, 1902.—The foregoing resolution was duly passed, a majority of all the members elected to the assembly voting in favor thereof. By order of the assembly, S. F. NIXON, Speaker.

STATE OF NEW YORK, Office of the Secretary of State, ss: I have compared the preceding copy of concurrent resolution, proposing an amendment to article seven, of the Constitution, with the original concurrent resolution on file in this office, and I do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole thereof. Given under my hand and the seal of office of the Secretary of State, at the city of Albany, this twenty-fifth day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and two. [L. S.] JOHN T. McDONOUGH, Secretary of State.

The foregoing Concurrent Resolution is published once a week for three months next preceding the next general election in conformity to the aforesaid provisions, in two public newspapers in each county in this State representing respectively the two political parties polling the highest number of votes at the last general election, and in one additional newspaper in each county for every one hundred thousand people in such county as shown by the last preceding State Enumeration, JOHN T. McDONOUGH, Secretary of State.

STATE OF NEW YORK, OFFICE OF THE Secretary of State, Albany, July 25, 1902.—Pursuant to the provisions of section one of article fourteen of the Constitution of the State of New York, and section seven of Chapter nine hundred and ninety-six, notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to article six of the Constitution of the State of New York is referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next General Election of Senators in this State to be held on the fourth day of November, nineteen hundred and two.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR. Concurrent Resolution of the Senate and Assembly, Proposing amendment to article six of the constitution relating to supreme court judicial districts.

Section 1. Resolved (if the assembly concur) that article six of the constitution be amended by adding thereto the following section: Section 24. At the general election next after the adoption of this amendment, there shall be elected, and thereafter as the offices become vacant through expiration of term or otherwise, by the electors of the second judicial district two justices of the supreme court in addition to the justices of that court, now in office in said judicial district. The justices so elected shall be invested with their offices on the first day of January next after their election.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Senate, April 18, 1901.—The foregoing resolution was duly passed, a majority of all the senators elected voting in favor thereof. By order of the senate, TIMOTHY L. WOODRUFF, President.

concur) that section one of article six of the constitution be amended by adding thereto the following provision: The legislature may from time to time increase the number of justices in any judicial district, except that the number of justices in the first or second district or in any of the districts into which the second district may be divided, shall not be increased to exceed one justice for each eighty thousand, or fraction over forty thousand of the population thereof, as shown by the last state, or federal census or enumeration, and except that the number of justices in any other district shall not be increased to exceed one justice for each sixty thousand or fraction over thirty-five thousand of the population thereof as shown by the last state or federal census or enumeration. The legislature may erect out of the second judicial district as now constituted, another judicial district and apportion the justices in office between the districts, and provide for the election of additional justices in the new district not exceeding the limit herein provided. § 2. Resolved (if the assembly concur) that the foregoing amendment be referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators, and in conformity with section one, of article fourteen of the constitution, be published for three months previous to the time of such election.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Senate, March 6, 1902.—This bill was duly passed, a majority of all the senators elected voting in favor thereof. By order of the senate, T. E. ELLSWORTH, Temporary President.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Assembly, March 21, 1902.—This bill was duly passed, a majority of all the members elected to the assembly voting in favor thereof. By order of the assembly, S. F. NIXON, Speaker.

STATE OF NEW YORK, Office of the Secretary of State, ss: I have compared the preceding copy of concurrent resolution, proposing an amendment to article six, of the Constitution, with the original concurrent resolution on file in this office, and I do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole thereof. Given under my hand and the seal of office of the Secretary of State, at the city of Albany, this twenty-fifth day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and two. [L. S.] JOHN T. McDONOUGH, Secretary of State.

The foregoing Concurrent Resolution is published once a week for three months next preceding the next general election in conformity to the aforesaid provisions, in two public newspapers in each county in this State representing respectively the two political parties polling the highest number of votes at the last general election, and in one additional newspaper in each county for every one hundred thousand people in such county as shown by the last preceding State Enumeration, JOHN T. McDONOUGH, Secretary of State.

STATE OF NEW YORK, OFFICE OF THE Secretary of State, Albany, July 25, 1902.—Pursuant to the provisions of section one of article fourteen of the Constitution of the State of New York, and section seven of Chapter nine hundred and ninety-six, notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to article twelve, section one of the Constitution of the State of New York is referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next General Election of Senators in this State to be held on the fourth day of November, nineteen hundred and two.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE. Concurrent Resolution of the Senate and Assembly, Proposing amendment to article twelve, section one of the constitution, relating to organization of cities.

Resolved (if the assembly concur) that the following amendment to the constitution be agreed to and referred to the legislature to be chosen at the next general election of senators: Section one, article twelve of the constitution is hereby amended to read as follows: It shall be the duty of the legislature to provide for the organization of cities and incorporated villages, and to restrict their power of taxation, assessment, borrowing money, contracting debts, and loaning their credit, so as to prevent abuses in assessments and in contracting debt by such municipal corporations; and the legislature may regulate and fix the wages or salaries, the hours of work or labor, and make provision for the protection, welfare and safety of persons employed by the state or by any county, city, town, village or other civil division of the state, or by any contractor or sub-contractor performing work, labor or services for the state, or for any county, city, town, village or other civil division thereof.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Senate, March 25, 1902.—This bill was duly passed, a majority of all the senators elected voting in favor thereof. By order of the senate, T. E. ELLSWORTH, Temporary President.

STATE OF NEW YORK: In Assembly, March 27, 1902.—This bill was duly passed, a majority of all the members elected to the assembly voting in favor thereof. By order of the assembly, S. F. NIXON, Speaker.

STATE OF NEW YORK, Office of the Secretary of State, ss: I have compared the preceding copy of concurrent resolution, proposing an amendment to article twelve, section one, of the Constitution, with the original concurrent resolution on file in this office, and I do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole thereof. Given under my hand and the seal of office of the Secretary of State, at the city of Albany, this twenty-fifth day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and two. [L. S.] JOHN T. McDONOUGH, Secretary of State.

The foregoing Concurrent Resolution is published once a week for three months next preceding the next general election in conformity to the aforesaid provisions, in two public newspapers in each county in this State representing respectively the two political parties polling the highest number of votes at the last general election, and in one additional newspaper in each county for every one hundred thousand people in such county as shown by the last preceding State Enumeration, JOHN T. ADVICE TO MOTHERS. Mrs. Winslow's Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.

FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE

Sheraton and Heppelwhite.

On our drawing-room floor are dainty designs in satinwood—very light and graceful, with delicate mouldings, skillful trimmings, and exquisitely painted after famous pieces in the South Kensington Museum.

Also some Sheraton pieces, enriched with inlays of pearl and gold, open, carved back and slim, tapering legs. Others with light, banister back, graceful, cabriole legs, delicately carved, and seat covered in damask of pure Sheraton design.

The Heppelwhites show a variety of designs—all with the characteristic shield-shaped back.
