

Beth Shalom Congregation

Forbes Street and Murray Avenue

The Beth Shalom Congregation of Squirrel Hill a promising organization, came into being early in 1918, when the Jewish population in that section was negligible. Its membership increased rapidly as more Jews settled in the Squirrel Hill district, and at the present time it exceeds 150, with indications that it will be doubled within four months.

Rabbi A. H. Kahn was called to the congregation in November, 1920, and he has the situation well in hand. His work has already assumed concrete appearance. At the last membership meeting, the recommendation of the Board of Trustees to purchase the site at Shady Avenue and Beacon Street was adopted. A synagogue and community house will be constructed.
